How Can We Protect Lake County's Waterways?

Speaker: Margaret Cox
Lake County Water Authority Trustee

Margaret Cox is a native of Indiana, but was raised on a horse farm in Central Florida, where her interest in Florida's unique environment began. At Rollins College, she majored in Public Affairs and Environmental Studies, and later worked as a realtor and professional photographer. For the past 23 years, she has lived in southern Lake County and advocated for better planning and protection for local natural water resources. Since 2012, she has served on the Lake County Water Authority Board representing District 1, which covers most of the Green Swamp Area of Critical State Concern. She is active in both the Orange County and Florida Audubon Societies. She is widowed, with one son and four 4 incredible grandchildren.

The lecture will be followed by questions from the public presented by the moderator, Russ Littlefield. Please join us by phone or through the internet using Zoom.
